Many Thanks to T. J. West!

Congratulations to T. J. West, a sophomore, who wrote a poem on the dangers of drunk driving. T. J.'s poem won a $600 grant from Amica Insurance for this year's After Prom. For his efforts, T. J. and his guest will receive an invitation to the After Prom. Great job, T. J.!!!

A poem by T. J. West

*The night was dark, but flares were lit
They showed light on the lonely mitt*

*The child had not seen the car straying
The man had seen no child playing*

*His mind was hazy, his vision blurred
His speech had been quite clearly slurred*

*There was no comfort for the mother
The boy was gone, she had no other*

*Perhaps they'll meet in Heaven some day
Maybe not, but who's to say?*
